

Dignified V-Day Program

Business Men Meet Today to Talk Over Plans, To Meet Ministers

A meeting was held at the Chamber of Commerce office this morning at 9:30 of various businessmen in Sedalia in order to discuss plans for the celebration of V-day in Sedalia. Ray Jiedel, chairman of the committee for V-day was in charge of the discussion.

It was decided that all places of business would close on word of the European victory, and times for the closing would be as follows: If word of victory comes between 8 a. m. and 2 p. m., the business houses will be closed that day, and open the following day; if the news is announced between 2 p. m. and 5:30, business will be closed for the remainder of the following day and until noon of the following day, and if V-day comes between the hours of 5:30 and 8 p. m., business will be closed that day and will be opened again on the following day. If V-day should come on a legal holiday, there will be no holiday the next day.

Will Plan Program

A committee is to be appointed to work with the Ministerial Alliance to make plans for the proper celebration of the day. Announcements will come from this committee concerning the plans. I. H. Reid, president of the Chamber of Commerce, reminded the group that the celebration should be kept as dignified as possible in view of the fact that the war with Japan will still not be won and many Sedalians still have relatives and friends fighting on the Pacific front. Then too, the day will be a sad day for many because they have sons, brothers, husbands, or other relatives, who have given their lives and there will be no homecoming planned in these homes.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 21.—(AP)—An ordinance designed for possible V-day exigencies is expected to be presented to the city council tonight empowering the mayor "upon any threatened commotion" to close for 24 hours by proclamation all places selling liquor by package and drink.

The ordinance, drawn in the counselor's office on suggestion of council members, is broad enough, it was explained to apply to any disaster, riot or threatened public commotion.

Hear Nephew Is Missing

Mrs. H. E. Schwenk, 1001 West Tenth street, received a telegram this morning from her sister, Mrs. G. C. Angel of Elizabethton, Tenn., telling that she had been notified by the war department that her son, T/Sgt. Clyde Angel, is missing in action. He was serving in France.

Sgt. Angel, about 24, is Mrs. Angel's only child and the only boy left in the family. His mother is a widow. His father, who was a sergeant in the Spanish-American war and won a world championship for sharpshooting, died about four years ago.

Overseas since the first of the year, Sgt. Angel has been in service for three and a half years, going into active duty with the Tennessee National Guards. He visited in Sedalia about six years ago. Before entering service he was employed at the Bemberg Rayon plant in Elizabethton. He graduated from the Elizabethton high school.

Tax Ordinance to Be Read Tonight

One of the ordinances, to be read for the first time at the city council meeting tonight, will have to do with the payment of merchants' taxes. The proposed ordinance will change the present method of payment, $40 annually, for each merchant, regardless of the volume of his business, to one-tenth of one per cent of his gross proceeds. The purpose of the plan, those in authority state, is to relieve the small merchant, and to more fully equalize the amount of merchants' tax paid.

A number of other civic matters will be brought up.

'End of War is In Sight,' Says Montgomery

WITH BRITISH TROOPS IN FRANCE, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery told his troops tonight:

"The end of the war is in sight. Let us finish off the business in record time."

Montgomery's special message said the German armies in northwest France had suffered a decisive defeat.

"There will be many surprises in store for the fleeing remnants," he asserted.

Montgomery said the victory had been "definite, complete and decisive."

Lieut. Thompson worked as a clerk at the Bothwell hotel for several years before going to Tucson, Ariz., where he was employed in hotels for several years before entering the service.

"Bo" was graduated from the Hickman high school in Columbia and the University of Missouri. He received his commission at Fort Benning, Georgia.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by four brothers and three sisters, Estill Thompson, Leonard Thompson, Miss Margaret Thompson, Mrs. Martha Strange and Harold Thompson all of Columbia, and Lawrence Thompson, and Mrs. Dorothy Vlasie, both of St. Louis.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS,

Southwest Pacific, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Japan is withdrawing her planes from the Moluccas and ripping up the abandoned dromes, leaving that island cluster below the Philippines wide open for Allied invasion.

Largest island of the Moluccas group, also known as the Spice islands, is Halmahera, 200 miles west of New Guinea and only 300 south of Mindanao.

Announcing that "under constant punishment, the enemy is apparently withdrawing his air forces to bases further westward beyond our bomber range," Gen. Douglas MacArthur said in a communique today:

"Our air force is continuing its pressure but is finding many enemy air bases non-operative and others stripped of planes."

"The enemy is no longer contesting the air over the Moluccas,"

Chain Being Divided

The communique added that the Molucca chain was being "strategically sterilized and divided into its component links," leaving the numerous garrisons there impotent for anything but local action.

Allied planes continued to strike at Japanese targets in the Pacific on a 2,500-mile arc from Timor to the Marianas.

American fighters, probably from Guam or Saipan, strafed Rota and Pagan in the Marianas on Thursday and Friday.

A Liberator damaged a 1,500-ton freighter-transport off Davao in the southern Philippines Friday. Air patrols near Celebes damaged a 3,000-ton freighter and sank a 500-ton coastal vessel Saturday.

Other planes raided Palau in the Carolines, Milne and Wotje in the Marshalls; Nauru, Bougainville, New Britain, New Ireland, New Guinea and islands in the Dutch East Indies.

Undergoes An Operation

Pfc. Walter E. Youse, USMC, somewhere in the South Pacific, underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday night, August 7, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Sallie Youse, rural route 6. He wrote that he is getting along all right.

Pfc. Youse entered the service November 10, '43 and was one of twelve out of 400 sent from Missouri to be placed in the Marines. He was sent to San Diego, Calif., for his boot training.

After finishing there he entered an engineering school at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., for three months and was then sent to Camp Elliott, San Diego just before sailing from San Francisco.

Planning Post War Security

By John M. Hightower
WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Representatives of the United States, Great Britain and Russia today began planning a world security organization which all agreed must be based on the "sovereign equality" of large and small nations alike, and must be backed by military forces available promptly and in strength.

Secretary of State Hull opened the initial session of the historic conference at Dumbarton Oaks on the dot of 10:30 a. m. (EWT) with a sharp rap of the gavel on the horseshoe shaped oak table and said:

"The conference will come, to order."

In his opening address Hull called for strong commitments to use force when necessary, saying it "must be available promptly, in adequate measure, and with certainty."

Soldier's Wife Killed on Way To Visit Him

Tractor-Trailer In Which She Was Riding Overturns

A young mother, Mrs. Georgine B. Enright, 24, enroute to Springfield, Mo., to visit her soldier husband, was instantly killed about 3:45 o'clock Sunday morning when a tractor-trailer in which she was riding crashed over a thirty foot embankment on the Claycomb hill, seven miles north of Sedalia on highway 65. Warren L. Lemon, 39, driver of the tractor, escaped with a bruised and sprained left shoulder and a bruised right leg.

The trailer was loaded with 450 bushels of shelled corn being hauled from Iowa to southern Missouri. The loss to the tractor-trailer and to the corn was estimated to be approximately $7,000.

According to Lemon and Harry I. Smith, the latter owner of the tractor-trailer, Mrs. Enright was anxious to get to Springfield to visit with her husband, Private Russell Enright, in the medical corps and stationed at the O'Reilly hospital. She sought to obtain a ride in the truck and was allowed to ride, according to Lemon, at her own risk.

In Sleeping Compartment

Mrs. Enright had been riding in the seat alongside Lemon, when about ten or fifteen minutes before the accident, she got into the sleeping compartment of the cab hoping to get some rest before reaching Springfield.

The outfit had started down the long Claycomb hill, heading south, when just as it reached the curve, something appeared to go wrong, according to the driver. He said he applied the air brakes, but they failed to take hold and the vehicle continued on down the hill. The tractor shot out over the shoulder of the embankment and the huge trailer following, jack-knifed and fell into the ravine thirty feet below the pavement. The tractor cab crashed against a tree.

An investigation conducted by Trooper Amos and others, revealed the tie-rod on the steering apparatus had snapped. It was believed the tie-rod broke as the tractor came around the curve, the driver then having no control of the vehicle. Markings on the road showed it had been partially broken for some time.

Skull Fractured

Mrs. Enright's head struck the top part of the cab and her skull was fractured over the left eye. In some manner her right arm was pinned in the cab and it was impossible to remove the body. She received other injuries such as slight lacerations and bruises.

Lemon said he tried to extricate Mrs. Enright from the wreck, and when unable to do so ran up the hillside and up the highway to the home of Rolla A. Green, who returned to the wreck with him. After they had tried again to get her out they drove to Sedalia, notified State Trooper Lloyd Amos and the police department. Elmer Arnold was notified and he took torches to the scene with the idea of cutting open the cab. However, it was only necessary to hook a cable into the tractor and pull it away from the tree to release the body.

Husband Notified

The police called Mason City and notified Smith of the wreck. Trooper Amos notified the patrol headquarters at Lees Summit of the identification of the woman and they in turn contacted patrol officers in Springfield who had Private Enright notified of his wife's death.

Mrs. Enright's body was brought to the McLaughlin funeral chapel and late Sunday night was taken to Mason City.

Dr. W. T. Bishop, coroner, who went to the scene, viewed the body. He said it was not necessary to hold an inquest.

Mrs. Enright is survived by her husband, their two children, Patrick William, aged five and Carol Ann, aged four, of their home, 644 South Federal street, Mason City; also her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Barnett, 632 South Federal in Mason City.

American Troops Spared on Both Sides of Paris Today; Seventh Army Enters Toulon

Allied Flags Reported Flying In Many Parts of Historic City

ROME, Aug. 21.—(AP)—American forces have captured Valensole, 50 airline miles north of Toulon. The U. S. Seventh Army has entered Toulon.

Forward elements are nine miles from Marseille.

On the coast east of Toulon the French captured the enemy stronghold of Redon and Hotel De Golf, a mile from Hyeres.

By Noland Norgaard
Hard driving French troops virtually encircled Toulon, breaking through to within three miles of the naval base while American infantry, within 15 airline miles of Marseille, fanned out today through the Durance valley and headed for the Rhone against disorganized enemy resistance.

The Americans sped forward on both sides of the town of Pertuis, 11 miles north of Aix-en-Provence across the Durance river, and joined French patriots who had surrounded Nazi troops within the town.

Another of Major Gen. Alexander M. Patch's American columns charged on several miles to the northeast of Aix, key junctions of seven highways 15 miles north of Marseille. Another unit was last reported in the outskirts of Aix and today possibly had completed occupation of that town.

(The German radio said Allied warships shelled Toulon yesterday. It claimed hits on one of "several" battleships and one of nine cruisers in the attacking fleet by Nazi shore batteries, which, it was claimed also struck a destroyer and torpedo boat.)

Nazi Garrison Isolated
A dispatch from Joseph Dyan, Associated Press correspondent with French troops driving on Toulon, said French commandos, joined with patriot forces and former members of the French navy, were dominating the Faron area just north of Toulon.

The Nazi garrison in Hyeres, about 8 1/2 miles east of Toulon, was virtually isolated, Dyan said. The Germans have given no indication of strength or determination to make a real stand in or near the mouth of the Rhone valley, the natural invasion highway for a juncture with Gen. Eisenhower in northern France.

In most sectors of the rapidly expanding southern French bridgehead, the Seventh army followed the effective tactics of bypassing enemy strongpoints.

The count of prisoners passed the 14,000 mark.

Among the newest captives were Maj. Gen. Hans Schubert and his entire staff of six officers and 30 men. Schubert, chief of a district liaison staff, was described as an ardent Nazi. Until June, he was chief administrative officer for the southwest of France with headquarters at Toulouse and had established a reputation for "extreme cruelty," Gen. Patch's headquarters said.

The Nazis defending Toulon were putting up a stiff battle against French infantry and armor on several approaches to the city from the east and north.

But other Seventh army units swinging around to the northwestward closed in toward the coast, threatening to cut off the last escape route westward toward Marseille.

French troops captured Le Revest, three miles directly north of Toulon, and the adjacent height of Monte Caume. They threatened to cut highway eight — one of the enemy's major escape routes.

Parents Have Message Son Dies in France

A message from the war department received this morning at 7:48 o'clock informed Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Solomon, 1807 West Broadway, of the death, somewhere in France of their son, Cpl. Calvin D. Solomon, a member of a tank battalion. The brief message gave no other particulars except the date of death, August 2.

Cpl. Calvin D. Solomon

That very day, August 2, Calvin had written a letter to his parents. The letter filled with his usual wit and good humor, referred to two companions who shared his fox hole during raids — a rabbit and a dog — and he credited them with being "more battlewise than some soldiers." At the time of writing Calvin was "all right" and treated his parents not to worry.

A few hours later he was killed. Cpl. Calvin Solomon, 20 years of age last January, was born east of Ottumwa in the Byberry community and when a baby moved with his parents to Sedalia. After graduation in 1941 from Smith-Cotton high school, he worked for a time at Yunker-Lierman's drug store and at the time of his enlistment, May 29, 1942, he was an apprentice machinist at the Missouri Pacific shops.

He was a member of the First Baptist church.

Survivors, other than his parents, are a brother, Raphael W. Solomon, somewhere in France and his grandmother, Mrs. C. M. Case, 311 North Quincy avenue.

Germans Show No Determination To Make Stand In Rhone Valley

By Wes Gallagher
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Aug. 21.—(AP)—U. S. Third army tanks have hurled the Seine both above and below Paris and have stormed into the area of the western suburb of Versailles where virtually no resistance was met.

By Wes Gallagher
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 21.—(AP)—U. S. armored columns speared on both sides of Paris today and Allied flags were reported already flying in many parts of the historic capital as an underground army staged a fierce revolt in anticipation of early liberation.

American tanks established a firm bridgehead across the Seine at Nantes, 25 miles northwest of Paris, opening a path to the flying bomb coast 90 miles farther north. Probing thrusts to the Seine in LONDON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—The force of more than 1,000,000 men which Germany had in France when the Allies invaded Normandy is now so badly beaten that only a very small fraction will be able to reach the German frontier, Robert E. Sherwood, overseas director of the OWI, said tonight.

In the vicinity of Corbeil, Melun and Fontainebleau, points 15, 25 and 35 miles southeast of Paris put the Allies in a position to sweep completely around the city and toward the World War battlefields of Reims, Soissons and the Marne.

Chateau Thierry, on the Marne, is 55 miles northeast of the 20-mile Allied front southeast of Paris. Soissons is 75 miles beyond Fontainebleau, Reims 85 miles.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's 3rd army vanguards were fighting in the vicinity of Versailles, 10 miles from the heart of Paris, where the peace was signed in the Hall of Mirrors in 1919.

(The German news agency DNB said American reconnaissance forces were in the suburbs of Paris itself.)

Nazis Trapped

Invasion of the territory north of the Seine at Nantes threatened to compress further the 75-mile long, 50 mile deep corner below the river where elements of 18 Nazi divisions were fighting desperately to escape from a succession of pockets with the hope of executing a German Dunkerque across an almost bridgeless Seine.

Madly charging into the Allied bands of steel, the Germans made two violent efforts to break out of these traps, one last night and the other yesterday, field dispatches reported.

Using about 70 tanks scraped up from the elements of five divisions, the Germans attacked from the westernmost pocket below Falaise in an all-night battle last night with the result still obscure today.

Farther east, below Chambois, rocket-spitting Typhoons and Canadian troops broke up an attack by 30 tanks attempting to force a way out of the second trap yesterday.

Thirty-three tanks were reported destroyed in the two suicide lunges.

Guns poured fire over open sights into the pockets. Field guns, anti-tank guns and even anti-aircraft guns blasted shells into milling masses of Germans.

Severe Losses

A British staff officer was quoted as saying of the night breakout attempt, "We do not know yet how many Germans got out, but we know they suffered severe losses."

More than 7,500 trapped Germans were captured yesterday — 2,200 on the British front alone. Supreme headquarters officially announced the capture of Argentan, on the southern edge of the now-closed escape gap of the original Normandy pocket.

chine to keep the peace after this war.
He began late, was pushed into it by men like Sumner Welles, Rep. Fulbright and the B2 H2 senators. Nevertheless, Mr. Hull is now in deadly earnest, should be given a chance to do his best without too much political boat-rocking.

Strike No. 2 is old-fashioned superficial diplomacy, which puts more emphasis on picayune formalities than on heading off the possibility that the youth of the world may go to war again.
Already the old-fashioned diplomats have begun jockeying. Russia had felt that a conference of this kind was so important, it should be handled by the top men of the world — Roosevelt, Churchill, Stalin. Secretary Hull, however, wanted it to be a conference of foreign ministers, somewhat like that which he attended in Moscow last fall. In the end, since Stalin, Roosevelt, et al., are not doing the job the Russians will be represented by a virtual diplomatic messenger, Soviet Ambassador Gromyko, already stationed in Washington.

Prior to this, the Chinese were to be represented by one of their leading diplomats, Victor Hu, long time Chinese delegate to the League of Nations. But when they heard the Russians would only be represented by Gromyko, the Chinese decided also to be represented by their ambassador in Washington. In other words, they didn't want to play the conference up one diplomatic notch higher than the Russians.

As a result of this jockeying, the state department feels that Secretary Hull, being a foreign minister, should not deal with lesser lights across the same table, that this should be done by Undersecretary of State Ed Stettinius. Hull, therefore, will make speeches at the opening and closing of the conference but will not be active in the day-to-day sessions, where the real peace plan will be born.

Note — On the desk which the undersecretary of state will use at Dumbarton Oaks, home of Ambassador Robert Woods Bliss, young Stettinius found this card: "Trust in Allah but tie your camel. Mildred and Robert W. Bliss."

Russian Peace Plan
Actually the Russians are reported to have prepared a broad plan for future peace machinery, not too far out of line with British-American ideas.

They are reported to believe: (1) That the four big powers must be responsible for keeping the peace (regardless of Governor Dewey); (2) That the Big Four should comprise a council similar to the league's council; (3) That the smaller nations should be members of an assembly holding meetings for consultation; (4) That the Big Four should maintain a punitive air force which could strike at any country which tried to upset the peace of the world.

Chief debate probably will hinge on an international police force. Roosevelt has come out against such a force. The Democratic platform at Chicago straddled the issue. Wendell Willkie is for such a force.

Instead of an international police force, Roosevelt proposes that the Big Four should keep their own individual armies and navies and use them to subdue an aggressor nation. Only trouble is that, when the French and some British proposed, doing this against Germany when Hitler invaded the Rhineland in 1936, the British would not use their army to support the French. Shortly thereafter, Hitler overran Europe.

This all-important point probably will be merely explored at the Dumbarton Oaks. Final decision will be passed on to Roosevelt, Churchill, Stalin, with the U. S. senate and the November election wielding a potent power in the background.

La Guardia and Italy
New York's busy little mayor, Fiorello La Guardia, isn't saying anything about it, but he has turned down President Roosevelt's request that he fly to Rome, survey the Italian political situation for the U. S. government.

FOILED BY THE ARMISTICE

STORIES from the front aroused a determination in Ike to get overseas with the tank boys. He sent persistent appeals to Washington and at last they were to be rewarded. Ike was going to France. He was with his new tank unit aboard the transport ready to sail on Nov. 11—when the news came. World War I had come to its sudden end. The Germans, facing defeat, had run up the white flag with the cry of "Kamerad" rather than continuing the war on German soil. The bugles sounded "cease firing" at 11 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 11, 1918, when an armistice was declared.

The ship's captain knew of young Eisenhower's eagerness to get into action. He also knew of his explosive nature if and when his plans were thwarted. Approaching him guardedly, he remarked:

"Sorry, Colonel, sailing orders canceled—it's all over over there!" Ike's reply is said to have been "classic." His command of vocabulary went into immediate action; he fought a battle of words on the deck of that ship with bombardments that might have sunk it. When the smoke from the burning declamations cleared away, he sat down.

Lieutenant-Colonel Eisenhower, ready to sail with his tank unit, was silent. As a soldier he must take orders. But his friends state that he believed it was a grievous mistake not to force the Germans to fight it out to a decisive battle on German soil. He had dreamed of roaring with his tanks on to Berlin. He believed the Germans would interpret the armistice as a tactical victory, saving them from disaster, and begin preparations for another war in years to come.

tremely anxious to go to Italy. However, he flatly won't take the job unless he can return to Italy wearing a U. S. uniform. The Little Flower was a major in the last war, has been itching to get into uniform again, but Secretary of War Stimson turned him down, saying he was doing a better job for the City of New York.

Meanwhile, La Guardia has stopped broadcasting to Italy on Sunday nights. Little was heard about it on this side of the ocean, but observers returning from Italy report that La Guardia is the greatest single American hero of the Italian people, probably was the most widely-listened-to speaker on the Allied radio in any enemy country during this war.

FDR's Radio "Flo"
One thing on which both Republicans and Roosevelt friends agree, is that his Bremerton navy yard address fell flat, lacked the old FDR zingo. Inside fact is that the president prepared the speech cold, without any outside help. No "ghosts" were along.

It was reported that Judge Samuel I. Rosenman was along on the entire trip and helped draft the Bremerton talk. Real fact, however, is that Rosenman and Elmer Davis, OWI chief, left the president at Pearl Harbor. Davis flew on to Saipan and Guam, Rosenman back to the White House.

Note: One friend, listening to the president's broadcast, remarked: "It's so bad that 'Pa' Watson must have written it."

Doughboy Jewelry
Secret weakness of the army-navy post exchanges has turned out to be jewelry. Perhaps because it glitters, perhaps because high pressure salesmen have been too persuasive, the post exchanges are stocked up with costume jewelry until they groan.

One small North Carolina air base, Pope Field, with only 400 men, has a total of $16,000 in costume jewelry awaiting sale in its post exchange. At Fort Bragg, N. C., a larger camp, $91,000 in jewelry is awaiting lethargic buyers.

The situation is so bad that the navy has issued a stop order for the whole eastern area for any more post exchange purchase of jewelry.

VETERANS of the Tank Corps who served in World War I have organized a World War Tank Corps Association and among its famous members are General "Iron Ike" Eisenhower and General "Blood and Guts" Patton. Former Secretary of War Harry H. Wooding was a second lieutenant in the Tank Corps. Prof. Carl O. Brigham, of Princeton University, was a first lieutenant. Hon. Melvin Jones, War Food Administrator, was a sergeant. United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., was a young tank man, as were James Gleason and Hoot Gibson, the motion picture stars.

"Eisenhower was a strict disciplinarian," says a regimental sergeant-major attached to his headquarters at that time, "an in-born soldier, but most human, considerate, and his decisions affecting the welfare of his officers and men were always well tempered. Despite his youth, he possessed a high understanding of organization, the ability to place an estimate on a man and fit him into a position where he would 'click.'"

In the event his judgment proved erroneous, the man would be called in, his errors pointed out, and adjustments made to suit the situation. This principle built for him high admiration and loyalty from his officers perhaps unequaled by few commanding officers.

"On the job Eisenhower was strictly military, therefore I had few words with him other than officially, perhaps more due to the fact that we were working under strain most of the time. Seldom did one see a paper on his desk. Mail and papers for his attention were immediately attended to—his desk cleared. No accumulated matters were inside his desk out of sight. He was always available to confer with his officers on either military or personal problems, but disliked being interviewed by non-military people. He just shied at publicity, preferring to remain in the background."

Ike has never forgiven World War I for ending before he could take his tanks rattling down Unter den Linden into Berlin. As a veteran he carries his membership in the Anthony and Grover Shook Post, No. 3279, Veterans Foreign Wars, in Abilene, Kansas. When his old comrades were asked how they would describe Ike in the fewest words, they replied: "American as pumpkin pie or corn on the cob."

Two Raids on Japan Sunday

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(P)—B-29 bombers in the second wave of Sunday's double strike at Japan reported today sighting the flames of destruction wrought by the daylight flight of superfortresses while still a half hour's flight from industrial targets on Kyushu.

Four of the huge bombers were reported lost to enemy action in the coordinated day and night attacks by the 20th air force.

The important Yawata industrial section was the target of both flights. Our planes shot down 15 enemy fighters, while 13 were probably destroyed and 12 damaged. The Tokyo radio, as usual, minimized the effects of the raids, claiming that 25 planes out of a total of 77 were destroyed in the first raid. It also asserted that 20 parachuting American crewmen were captured. The Japanese broadcasts said the first raid was against four cities on Kyushu, the southernmost main island, naming Fukuoka, Noji, Kokura and Yawata. The latter, site of numerous heavy industries, has been hit twice previously.

New Type of Ammunition At Lake City Plant

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Aug. 21.—(P)—The Lake City ordnance plant has been asked by the war department to produce large quantities of new types of ammunition for special training purposes, Maj. A. H. Gradner, Jr., commanding officer, said today.

Pincer Possibility

Anticipating Allied capture and consolidation of French Mediterranean ports, armchair strategists might spell quick doom for Germans in northern Italy. Left arm of pincers could thrust eastward through Alpine passes on to broad plains above Po river; right arm would require amphibious invasion of Yugoslavia. Success of movement would trap Nazis in northern Italy, force their surrender or flight through Brenner Pass, which is at mercy of Allied bombers.

War Picture For Rotarians

They could take it and they did that is the reason they won the Battle of Britain and that is the reason that despite all the horrible bombing and every kind of destruction that Hitler could rain from the clouds, they are still singing triumphantly, "There Will Always be an England." Such was the graphic and harrowing message of the picture entitled, "The Battle of Britain," presented before the Rotary club at the Bothwell hotel today noon. L. W. Satorius and Bob Sauerneiman of Armour & Co., were in charge of the program.

The picture is one on a series that is being presented all over the country to civic and industrial groups. This picture covered the period of the beginning of the bombing of England, up to the time when the British had mustered enough air strength to be able to beat back the Germans, and in turn begin to send bombers over the Nazi countries.

The meeting was presided over by President Lawrence Barnett and Dan Dean, as program chairman for the month of August introduced the program.

Guests for the day were: Dr. F. L. Lawrence with Ray Lippard; Rev. James Overton of Mena, Ark.; and Lyle Morsemann of St. Louis, with Ollie Stanley; George Sego with Harry Brougher; R. B. Hinkle, Little Rock, Ark., with Dan Dean and Rotarians D. A. Perkins of Beloit, Kas., and Lynn Henderson of Liberty, Mo.

Writer Killed On Way to Paris

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(P)—Tom Treanor, war correspondent for the Los Angeles Times and the National Broadcasting Co., has been killed on the road to Paris.

Advices to supreme headquarters in London said it was reported one other American correspondent had been killed and three wounded.

Treanor's death was announced from France by John Macvane, another NBC reporter there, who said the jeep in which Treanor was riding was run over by an American tank. Macvane added "Tom was where he wanted to be, at the very tip of the units of the American Third army pushing toward Paris. There were Germans behind him and all around him."

"It was his great ambition to be the first radio correspondent to reach Paris and send the word back to the people back home. "Tom's loss will be great. He was greatly loved by his fellow correspondents—ever ready and enthusiastic—ever wanting to help. He was such a swell guy." Treanor recently published a book of his experiences as a war correspondent.

Basic Truths Not in Report

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(P)—Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel told Senator Truman (D-Mo.) today that the Roberts report "does not contain the basic truths of the Pearl Harbor catastrophe" and added that a magazine article of Truman dealing with the Hawaiian disaster contained "false statements."

Protesting that the article was based on the report prepared by Associate Justice Owen J. Roberts of the supreme court, the formal naval commander at Pearl Harbor asked in a letter to Truman that "you refrain from repeating charges based on evidence that has never met with the test of public scrutiny."

Kimmel and Maj. Walter C. Short, army commander in Hawaii at the time of the Japanese attack, both await court martial on charges of dereliction of duty.

The Markets

Light Liquidation

By Victor Eubank
NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Further clearing war news brought modest bids for stocks with relatively high peace prospects today but many market leaders suffered from light liquidation.

Continued weakness of securities at London, attributed mainly to the feeling the Nazis were approaching the end and that home industry might be in for troublesome experiences, tended to sober domestic investors who, during the preceding week, had been on the buying side because of waning reconversion worries. Political hopefulness was an aid to sentiment although numerous customers returned from their long week-end with the idea of switching accounts of standing aside to wait developments at home and abroad.

Except for scattered utilities and industrials, prices began to slip after the opening. Encouraging, however, was the fact that there never was any real selling pressure. Transfers for the full stretch were around 300,000 shares. Losses of fractions to a point or so were in the majority near the close.

Grain Futures Rally

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—(P)—A firm cotton market and slight offerings caused grain futures to rally today. Rye at one time was as much as 1 1/2 cents higher than the previous close. Local traders sold at the opening, then switched to buying when prices held firm. Offerings were light and the upturn followed.

Resting orders and the strength of rye caused wheat to advance after early weakness. Trade was light.

Arrival of a large cargo of Canadian oats Saturday was reflected in early weakness in that market but prices turned firm when commission houses took all offerings. Some selling of the September contract apparently was for northwestern interests.

Horseback Riders See Large Snake

Mrs. Nora Amende, 1216 East Ninth street, brought to the Democrat-Capitol office a clipping from the Tri-county paper published at Stover.

The clipping read:

"Mrs. Walter Brockman of near Cole Camp, and son saw a very large rattlesnake Tuesday of this week when they were making a trip on horseback to see about the Brockman herd that ranges in the timber south of their home. The snake was stretched across the wagon trail and appeared to be six feet or more in length and as large around the body as a half gallon bucket. When it raised its tail to rattle, the length of rattles appeared to be about as long as a table knife. Horses and riders were both frightened and the snake was left to its own devices."

Loudspeaker Informs Them How Wife is Doing

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21—(AP)—In a clinically spotless anteroom at California hospital the Rev. John L. Nixon fixed an apprehensive eye upon a loud speaker and pressed an icebag firmly against his bedewed brow.

Suddenly the box blared: "Mr. Nixon: Your wife has entered the delivery ward. Everything is just dandy. Normal in every way — relax, now. Don't worry. Stand by for further announcement."

"What a sense of humor!" commented another expectant father. J. J. Duschaneck, airlines mechanic.

"The doctor has a nice voice," Rev. Nixon said meekly.

"Mr. Duschaneck!" called the box. "Your wife has entered delivery ward 2. She is smiling and cheerful. How are you doing, old man? Take it easy, now."

Duschaneck sighed, lighted another cigarette. Rev. Nixon tried to look sympathetic. The clock's hands crawled. Both men stared at the box.

"Attention," Mr. Nixon! Listen closely now!"

The loudspeaker emitted a sharp smack, followed almost immediately by W-a-a-a-a-a-h! ! !

"Congratulations, Mr. Nixon!" the box cried jubilantly. "You are the father of a fine boy! A football player if I ever saw one. Seven pounds . . ."

Rev. Nixon grinned bewilderedly and twisted the icebag. "Wonderful, isn't it?" he said.

"Terrific," murmured Duschaneck, essaying a smile.

Rev. Nixon pulled himself together and started for the office of hospital superintendent Ritz E. Heerman, who thought up this play-by-play idea for panicky papas. At the anteroom doorway Rev. Nixon turned to Duschaneck. "Here," he said, proffering the icebag, "You may need this."

Browns Totter; Red Sox on a Rampage

St. Louis Americans
Lose 8 of Last 12
Games; Pitchers Fade

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer
Visions of an all-St. Louis World's Series for the first time in the major league may be just that—a vision.

The pennant-hungry Browns of St. Louis have watched their first place lead dwindle to three and a half games over the Boston Red Sox. They bowed twice yesterday to the cellar-dwelling defeat, their longest losing streak of the year.

Only a week ago, after having won 10 games in a row for the longest winning streak in the American league, the Browns enjoyed a six and a half game lead. Then followed a rapid decline in which the St. Louisians lost eight of their next 12 games, shaving their lead three full games. Their present lead is their shortest since July 29.

Dutch Leonard had little trouble defeating the Browns in the opener, limiting them to four hits. The Senators pounded three Brownie
hurlers for 17 hits to win the night cap. The last Brownie flinger to finish a game he started was Nelson Potter on July 18.

wick got seven hits in eight times
at bat.

Rookie Woody Rich pitched the Boston Braves to a 5-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals for his first National league victory, after the Cards had drubbed the Braves 15-5 in the opener.

The Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago White Sox divided a twin-bill, the Sox winning the opener 3-2 and the A's grabbing the aftermath 8-3.

Bucky Walters pitched and batted his way to his 18th victory as the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 3-2 in a 12-inning opener. The Phils won the second 4-1.

Merchants Blanked by Brunkhorst

Youthful Lefthander
Pitches No Run No
Hitter for Versailles

Bobby "Lefty" Brunkhorst has won himself fame in Central Missouri, by pitching a no hit no run game for the Versailles Merchants against the Sedalia Merchants on Sunday afternoon. Brunkhorst blanked the Sedalians for the first time this season and his team won 6 to 0.

The young pitcher was opposed on the mound by "Lefty" Harold Green, also a promising young hurler, who worked pitch for pitch with Brunkhorst up to the fifth inning, when several costly errors by his teammates sent four runs across the plate.

Pitched for Smithton
Brunkhorst for several seasons has been playing with the Smith-ton Hornets, where he obtained a considerable amount of experience in pitching.

The Sedalia team was handicapped by several of the regular players being unable to play on account of illness and Gus Shirley, center fielder, was forced to retire in the third inning due to an injured knee. The only serious threat the Merchants presented to Brunkhorst was in the first inning when they filled the bases with but one out, but they were unable to punch a run across.

It was an interesting game and was attended by a large crowd.
Two Hits for Buerke-White
For the Versailles team Buerke and White collected two hits each and Kirkner and McKee starred on the defense.

Score by innings—

ford 3b, Morris lf, Shirley cf, Wil-journey to the Sedalia Army Air Field where they will play a return game with the Gliders.

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(AP)— Looks as if the national tennis championships at Forest Hills Labor day week-end will be strictly a feminine show. Lieut.
Don McNeill shouldn't have any competition for the men's title if he's in condition, but the girls not only will have all the top-season they haven't paid the slightest attention to form (that

His idea is that players would

THERE'S something about a Wac...

With her fresh, cool poise, her air of quiet

Her gallantry and her spirit. Her way of get-

Her pride in her vital Army job. And in the There's something about a Wac that makes you want to stand up and cheer!

The way the soldiers did—when the Wacs

The way Generals do—with cables that say:

Receiving radio messages
